

Document Corpus

Create a corpus/ folder with these 6 files:

Document 1: speech1.txt - "Annihilation of Caste" Excerpt

text

The real remedy is to destroy the belief in the sanctity of the shastras. How do you expect to succeed if you allow the shastras to continue to be held as sacred and infallible? You must take a stand against the scriptures. Either you must stop the practice of caste or you must stop believing in the shastras. You cannot have both. The problem of caste is not a problem of social reform. It is a problem of overthrowing the authority of the shastras. So long as people believe in the sanctity of the shastras, they will never be able to get rid of caste. The work of social reform is like the work of a gardener who is constantly pruning the leaves and branches of a tree without ever attacking the roots. The real enemy is the belief in the shastras.

What is your ideal society? My ideal society would be based on liberty, equality, and fraternity. I do not want to be the slave of tradition. I do not want to be the slave of others. I want to be free. I want to be equal. I want to be fraternal. This is my ideal. And this ideal can be realized only through the abolition of caste.

Document 2: speech2.txt - "The Buddha and His Dhamma" Excerpt

text

The Buddha's Dhamma is the only religion which the world can have if the world is to become a society of free and equal men. The Dhamma is social. It is a code of moral conduct for society. The center of Dhamma is man and the relationship between man and man. What is Dhamma? The Dhamma is to avoid evil, to do good, and to purify the mind. This is the teaching of all Buddhas.

The Buddha was against ritualism. He condemned the performance of sacrifices. He rejected the authority of the Vedas. He denied the efficacy of prayers. He discarded the usefulness of gods. He emphasized the law of Karma. He taught that every man has the power to shape his own destiny. He made man the master of his own fate.

Document 3: speech3.txt - "States and Minorities" Excerpt

text

The constitutional remedies for the protection of minorities are of two kinds. First, fundamental rights which are justiciable. Second, directive principles which are not justiciable. The fundamental rights must include the right to equality, the right to freedom, the right against exploitation, and the right to constitutional remedies. These rights are necessary to protect the minorities against the tyranny of the majority.

The Constitution is not a mere lawyers' document. It is a vehicle of life, and its spirit is always the spirit of age. The Constitution must provide for economic democracy as well as political democracy. Political democracy cannot last unless there lies at the base of it social democracy. What does social democracy mean? It means a way of life which recognizes liberty, equality, and fraternity as the principles of life.

Document 4: speech4.txt - "Waiting for a Visa" Excerpt

text

I was born in the untouchable community. I have faced the stigma of untouchability from my childhood. I know what it means to be an untouchable. I know the humiliation, the insults, the injustices. I remember how we were not allowed to drink water from the public well. I remember how we were not allowed to enter the temple. I remember how we were forced to live outside the village.

Education is the key to liberation. Without education, the untouchables can never achieve their rightful place in society. I struggled for education against all odds. I went to school sitting outside the classroom. I studied under street lights when I had no money for kerosene. But I was determined to get educated. Education gave me the strength to fight against injustice.

Document 5: speech5.txt - "Pakistan or the Partition of India" Excerpt

text

The Hindu-Muslim problem is fundamentally a problem of nationalities. The Hindus and Muslims are not two communities but two nations. They have different religions, different cultures, different languages, and different historical backgrounds. The Muslims have a consciousness of being a separate nation. They want to have their own homeland, their own national state.

The creation of Pakistan is inevitable. The Muslims cannot live under Hindu domination. They must have a separate state where they can develop according to their own culture and civilization. The unity of India is artificial. It was created by the British. Before the British, India was never united. The partition of India is the only solution to the Hindu-Muslim problem.

Document 6: speech6.txt - "The Untouchables" Excerpt

text

The untouchables are not a caste. They are a class. They are the broken men of Indian society. They were the original inhabitants of India who were defeated and subjugated by the invading Aryans. The untouchables were forced to live outside the village. They were denied the right to education. They were denied the right to property. They were condemned to do menial work.

The solution to the problem of untouchability lies in the annihilation of caste. The untouchables must fight for their rights. They must organize themselves. They must educate their children. They must enter the government services. They must use political power to protect their interests. The emancipation of the untouchables is impossible without political power.

Complete Test Dataset

Create test_dataset.json with this exact content:

json

```
{
  "test_questions": [
    {
      "id": 1,
      "question": "What is the real remedy for caste system according to Document 1?",
      "ground_truth": "The real remedy is to destroy the belief in the sanctity of the shastras.",
      "source_documents": ["speech1.txt"],
      "question_type": "factual",
      "answerable": true
    },
    {
      "id": 2,
      "question": "What does Ambedkar say about the Buddha's view on rituals in Document 2?",
      "ground_truth": "The Buddha was against ritualism, condemned sacrifices, rejected Vedic authority, denied prayer efficacy, and discarded gods.",
      "source_documents": ["speech2.txt"],
      "question_type": "factual",
      "answerable": true
    },
    {
      "id": 3,
      "question": "What two types of constitutional remedies does Ambedkar mention in Document 3?",
      "ground_truth": "Fundamental rights which are justiciable, and directive principles which are not justiciable.",
      "source_documents": ["speech3.txt"],
      "question_type": "factual",
      "answerable": true
    },
    {
      "id": 4,
      "question": "What personal experiences of untouchability does Ambedkar describe in Document 4?",
      "ground_truth": "Not allowed to drink from public wells, not allowed to enter temples, forced to live outside villages.",
      "source_documents": ["speech4.txt"],
      "question_type": "factual",
      "answerable": true
    },
    {
      "id": 5,
      "question": "Why does Ambedkar believe Pakistan's creation was inevitable in Document 5?",
      "ground_truth": "Because Hindus and Muslims are two separate nations with different religions, cultures, and historical backgrounds who cannot live under one domination.",
      "source_documents": ["speech5.txt"],
      "question_type": "factual",
      "answerable": true
    }
  ]
}
```

```

    "answerable": true
  },
  {
    "id": 6,
    "question": "Who does Ambedkar call 'broken men' in Document 6 and why?",
    "ground_truth": "The untouchables, because they were original inhabitants defeated and subjugated by invading Aryans.",
    "source_documents": ["speech6.txt"],
    "question_type": "factual",
    "answerable": true
  },
  {
    "id": 7,
    "question": "Compare Ambedkar's views on education in Documents 4 and 6",
    "ground_truth": "In Document 4, education is the key to liberation from personal experience. In Document 6, education is essential for political empowerment and organization.",
    "source_documents": ["speech4.txt", "speech6.txt"],
    "question_type": "comparative",
    "answerable": true
  },
  {
    "id": 8,
    "question": "What is Ambedkar's concept of ideal society across Documents 1 and 3?",
    "ground_truth": "Based on liberty, equality, and fraternity, with both political and social democracy.",
    "source_documents": ["speech1.txt", "speech3.txt"],
    "question_type": "conceptual",
    "answerable": true
  },
  {
    "id": 9,
    "question": "How does Ambedkar relate political power to social change in Documents 3 and 6?",
    "ground_truth": "In Document 3, constitutional rights protect minorities. In Document 6, political power is essential for untouchables' emancipation.",
    "source_documents": ["speech3.txt", "speech6.txt"],
    "question_type": "comparative",
    "answerable": true
  },
  {
    "id": 10,
    "question": "What was Ambedkar's favorite food?",
    "ground_truth": "This information is not available in the provided documents.",
    "source_documents": [],
    "question_type": "unanswerable",
    "answerable": false
  },
  {
    "id": 11,

```

```
"question": "When did Ambedkar visit the United States?",
"ground_truth": "This information is not available in the provided documents.",
"source_documents": [],
"question_type": "unanswerable",
"answerable": false
},
{
  "id": 12,
  "question": "What is the Dhamma according to Document 2?",
  "ground_truth": "To avoid evil, to do good, and to purify the mind.",
  "source_documents": ["speech2.txt"],
  "question_type": "factual",
  "answerable": true
},
{
  "id": 13,
  "question": "What analogy does Ambedkar use for social reform in Document 1?",
  "ground_truth": "Like a gardener pruning leaves and branches without attacking the roots.",
  "source_documents": ["speech1.txt"],
  "question_type": "factual",
  "answerable": true
},
{
  "id": 14,
  "question": "What fundamental rights does Ambedkar mention in Document 3?",
  "ground_truth": "Right to equality, right to freedom, right against exploitation, and right to constitutional remedies.",
  "source_documents": ["speech3.txt"],
  "question_type": "factual",
  "answerable": true
},
{
  "id": 15,
  "question": "How did Ambedkar struggle for education according to Document 4?",
  "ground_truth": "Went to school sitting outside classroom, studied under street lights, determined to get educated against all odds.",
  "source_documents": ["speech4.txt"],
  "question_type": "factual",
  "answerable": true
},
{
  "id": 16,
  "question": "What does Ambedkar say about the unity of India in Document 5?",
  "ground_truth": "The unity of India is artificial and was created by the British. Before British, India was never united.",
  "source_documents": ["speech5.txt"],
  "question_type": "factual",
```

```

    "answerable": true
  },
  {
    "id": 17,
    "question": "What solution does Ambedkar propose for untouchables in Document 6?",
    "ground_truth": "Annihilation of caste, organization, education, entering government services, and using political power.",
    "source_documents": ["speech6.txt"],
    "question_type": "factual",
    "answerable": true
  },
  {
    "id": 18,
    "question": "Compare the concept of 'enemy' in Documents 1 and 6",
    "ground_truth": "In Document 1, the enemy is belief in shastras. In Document 6, the enemy is the caste system and social oppression.",
    "source_documents": ["speech1.txt", "speech6.txt"],
    "question_type": "comparative",
    "answerable": true
  },
  {
    "id": 19,
    "question": "How does Ambedkar's view on religion differ between Documents 2 and 5?",
    "ground_truth": "In Document 2, he praises Buddha's Dhamma as social moral code. In Document 5, he sees religion as dividing Hindus and Muslims into separate nations.",
    "source_documents": ["speech2.txt", "speech5.txt"],
    "question_type": "comparative",
    "answerable": true
  },
  {
    "id": 20,
    "question": "What is the relationship between education and liberation in Ambedkar's philosophy?",
    "ground_truth": "Education is essential for both personal liberation from oppression and political empowerment for social change.",
    "source_documents": ["speech4.txt", "speech6.txt"],
    "question_type": "conceptual",
    "answerable": true
  },
  {
    "id": 21,
    "question": "What year was Ambedkar born?",
    "ground_truth": "This information is not available in the provided documents.",
    "source_documents": [],
    "question_type": "unanswerable",
    "answerable": false
  },
  {

```

```

    "id": 22,
    "question": "What specific restrictions did untouchables face according to Document 4?",
    "ground_truth": "Not allowed to drink water from public wells, not allowed to enter temples, forced to live outside villages.",
    "source_documents": ["speech4.txt"],
    "question_type": "factual",
    "answerable": true
  },
  {
    "id": 23,
    "question": "How does Ambedkar define social democracy in Document 3?",
    "ground_truth": "A way of life recognizing liberty, equality, and fraternity as principles of life.",
    "source_documents": ["speech3.txt"],
    "question_type": "factual",
    "answerable": true
  },
  {
    "id": 24,
    "question": "What does Ambedkar say about the Constitution in Document 3?",
    "ground_truth": "It is not a mere lawyers' document but a vehicle of life whose spirit is always the spirit of age.",
    "source_documents": ["speech3.txt"],
    "question_type": "factual",
    "answerable": true
  },
  {
    "id": 25,
    "question": "How does Ambedkar characterize the Hindu-Muslim problem in Document 5?",
    "ground_truth": "Fundamentally a problem of nationalities, not just communities, with two separate nations wanting separate homelands.",
    "source_documents": ["speech5.txt"],
    "question_type": "factual",
    "answerable": true
  }
]
}

```